

Art for me is about being expressive & conveying feelings that others can relate to. I love colour and abstract forms and my work is inspired by the natural world around, life experiences and my Christian faith. It gives me mental space, real joy in creating and enduring friendships. I use acrylic, oils, inks and collage, and now tend to paint in series, anything from 4 -8 paintings together with a common colour palette and theme before moving on.

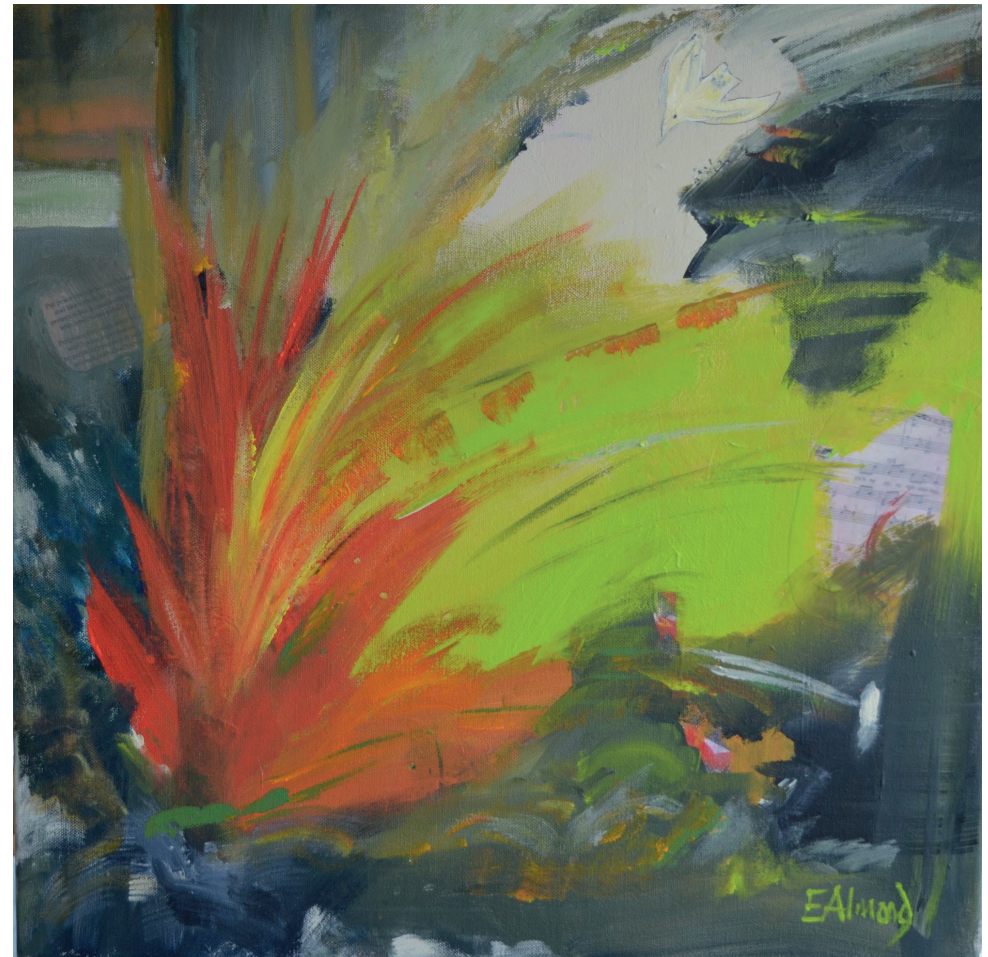

Art has been important since childhood, but only came into real focus in 2008. Stopped from studying art at school, to get a proper job, it was always an interest: visiting galleries, sketching, photography and designing various gardens as I moved around. Then in 2008 I took early retirement, (having worked in Peru and in health care here) due to chronic illness. I began again, enrolling on courses and learning to paint, looking afresh at the world from a new perspective. I have since exhibited locally, around the south east and at national art fairs, in addition to church ministry in Borough Green, where I live. In 2017, to my amazement, I was shortlisted in the National Open Art Competition.

I offer individual art tuition to individuals and groups, and in 2023 I was area coordinator for part of West Kent for South East Open Studios. I am also a member of the Pure Arts Group, Sevenoaks Visual Arts Forum, and registered with Art Profile (www.artprofile.co.uk) as an art teacher. My work is in private collections in the UK, Eire and Canada.
